

Messages of Support

Shirley and our family are grateful for the letters, telephone calls and e-mails of support as the civil hearing approaches. That this support has never faltered over the past 9 years is truly remarkable. It has continually served as a reminder that this is a fight worth fighting. – thank you!!

Iain

Since I last spoke to you I have gone through your web site getting caught up in the reading of every item on this case.

How anybody, be they in the police service or government body, treat an individual in the way that Shirley has been treated over the years, and is still being treated is beyond belief.

Words escape me to say anything more about the case than what has not already been said.

As the bard said, "Facts are chiefs that winna ding". In the end of the day the truth will out.

To you Iain I would say hang on in there in the knowledge that we are all behind you supporting you all the way and to you Shirley, 'chin up' you are nearly there after such a long hard slog.

You know, probably better than I do, that you could not have a better man beside you than your father. I hope that my next correspondence is to congratulate you both on the successful outcome of the court hearing

Hello Iain,

With the upcoming court appearance I wish to assure you of my support and prayers during the weeks ahead. The road travelled by Shirley and your family since 1998 has not been one of comfort and peace. You have been denied the confidence in trustworthy stewardship by the Government and Police which should be a right of every citizen in the Commonwealth. They have a lot to answer for and hopefully Shirley and your family will get answers to those questions that mean the most in order to resume your lives. I wish you strength and success. Kind regards.

Sir,

As a long retiredof the Queensland Police Force (Australia) I am thoroughly disgusted by the arrogant, stupid, unfeeling attitude of the responsible Scottish authorities.

Or should I say irresponsible Scottish authorities.

I understand that civil action for damages is coming up soon. If a settlement is reached, no doubt a condition will be confidentiality of the terms of settlement, so that the rubbish can continue to be swept under the carpet.

Shirley should be awarded substantial NET damages, plus punitive damages against the criminal neglect by the Scottish authorities, plus all legal costs to date, plus an unreserved apology and full acknowledgment of her innocence.

Dear Iain

Our prayers are with you both. (We)..... are both former police officers and know the feeling of "brotherhood". We stand together in this until it's finished.

..... and hopefully we will meet one day.

As ever,

Dear Iain,

Good morning from one of the original 13 Colonies,

As the windows are opened and light finally shines into the abyss that is the Scottish Government offices, they will be forced by legal action to disclose fully for all to hear.

The record of the impending proceedings will speak volumes to what damage can be brought by the few. Let justice be the remedy.

Dear Shirley and Iain,

Since I last emailed you, my amazement has grown even deeper. I can't believe that this situation has been drawn out to this length.

However, my belief in GOD ALMIGHTY brings me to the realization that HE has a greater plan and those in power now will be brought to their knees and justice will be served.

You can hold your head high and be very proud of your stance. You are not alone in this fight. When all is said and done, you will come out of top and those who have wronged you will be put in their place.

I would like to extend our home to both of you. I am hoping that you will find the time to visit the United States in the near future.

Our prayers are with you always.

Hi Iain

Gave a talk to last Monday and highlighted the main points of the case to date as part of my talk on Everyone was very aware of the case and deeply sympathetic towards Shirley. I have asked them to keep an eye out for the Civil Case which begins shortly and those that have computers to link in and perhaps leave a message of support.

All the best to yourself and Shirley for what I know will be a difficult time ahead.

Cheers.

C T, Retired Police Officer, Scotland.
